

Meet John Lynch

Running for Buchanan County Supervisor

John is a lifelong resident of Buchanan county and a God fearing man. He and his wife Abbie have been married 20 years this July and have 13 children ages 1-18. They are raising their children on a farm in rural Buchanan county.

John grew up helping his dad farm and has continued to work with him. In 2018, he converted his personal farming operation to organic. He has managed the day to day operations of several successful businesses including long haul trucking, field drainage, excavating, and farming. He also runs a tree-trimming business with several of his sons.

He holds traditional values and uses common sense when making decisions. Every citizen should be respected, valued and not looked down upon. People should be able to disagree and still be respectful to each other. Also, transparency and accountability are musts in every situation no matter how small.

One of John's concerns is that future generations will not enjoy the freedoms we enjoy if government overreach is not kept in check. The best way to do that is to keep people's money in their own hands. As supervisor he would work to analyze spending in an effort to cut unnecessary spending. The ultimate goal would be to lower the tax burden for the citizens of Buchanan county.

As supervisor John will work hard today to secure our freedoms for tomorrow.
